PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

America has placed faith in education to a greater extent than any other country in history. Men and women whom you will never know or see have sacrificed to build the University from which you are now going. The best way for you to repay them is to conduct yourselves as enlightened citizens, men and women of intelligence and integrity. Such actions on your part will justify all the time, money, thought and effort which others have invested in your education.

I am confident that both you and those of us who remain at the University will be glad to acknowledge in your behavior that you are graduates of West Virginia University.

Good luck to you.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The University's Student Government was reorganized in 1952 under a new constitution providing for three separate departments of governmental activity: the Student Executive Council, the Student Legislature, and the Student Court.

Student Government coordinates the work of its committee system and of various campus organizations. Besides sponsoring many educational and entertaining activities, it provides valuable experience in democratic self-government, and represents the student body with the faculty, administration, and off-campus groups.

This year, in addition to the usual weekends and other events, Student Government reorganized freshman traditions on a voluntary basis, revamped the student-faculty committee structure, and instituted a new freshman election procedure. Student Government helped launch the student identification card project and the Spiriteers (flash-card section). It organized the student petition for the Governor and State Legislative leaders. It achieved the long-desired return of student elections to student supervision through ratification of the student-conducted elections amendment to the Student Body Constitution.

Through newsletters, open meetings, and suggestion sessions, Student Government established closer liaison with the students whom it serves. Increasing in efficiency, activity, and responsiveness to student needs, Student Government is growing in its role as the representative of the entire student body.

OFFICERS

The Executive Council consists of the President and Vice-President of the Student Body, and the Presidents and Vice-Presidents of the senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman classes. The Council advises the Student Body President, creates class organizations, and proposes policy measures to the Student Legislature.

As the Executive branch of Student Government the Executive Council supervises activities and projects, implements Student Legislature enactments, and investigates new opportunities for Student Government service.

Third Row: John McCormick, Leo Mazzocci, Stan Clifton, Bob Barnes, Bill Curry, Sam Brady, Delmar Chase, Fritz Mudge.

LEGISLATURE

In the Student Legislature, each school and college is represented in proportion to its enrollment. The legislature is the policy-making branch of Student Government.

It confirms or rejects all appointments made by the Student Body President, determines rules of Freshman Tradition, sponsors traditional weekends and special events, appropriates Student Government funds, and requires reports from student committees and organizations under its jurisdiction.

Under its power to make all regulations necessary and proper to promote the general welfare of the student body, the Legislature formulates many Student Government policies. Most major projects are authorized or inspired by Legislature resolutions.

STUDENT COURT

The Student Court performs the judicial function of Student Government. It determines offenses and penalties of Freshman rules and hears appeals from all disciplinary actions of the Executive Council and Legislature. It reviews and certifies the form and content of proposed amendments to the Student Body Constitution. It also renders judgment on other issues presented to it by the Executive Council or Legislature. Of its seven members, four serve ex officio and three are appointed.

UNIVERSITY

To the majority of students at West Virginia University the MONTICOLA is something once hoped for which has become a reality. It records the highlights of the year in picture and word. But to the students who work toward editing and financing the annual, it means much more. It means working when everyone else is playing, and crawling out of bed early Saturday morning when everyone else is sleeping. On the other hand, it also means having fun even when tired, and making freinds who will never be forgotten.

Because this year's staff was no exception to these facts our sincere thanks go to Kay Rice who handled much more than any Organization Editor should be expected to handle; Yvonne Gump and Ed Galligan who were our "jacks-of-all-trades" and always seemed to do the impossible; Bill Naylor who spent many hours looking at the student body through a camera; and Sharon Andrews and Pat Barthlow for compiling our student directory. On the business end, Bill Green broke all yearbook advertising records along with his assistants, Bob Shatzer and Chuck Sturm.

Our thanks go also to the other staff members without whose help the book would never have reached the printer; to Ralph Langreck of the Benson Printing Company whose help and advice were endless; to Dr. Patrick Gainer, faculty advisor; and to Mr. Glenn Bengston and Mr. John Luchock of the University Printing Service.

Typical!

Early in the year the staff announced that at least two Athenaeums each week would contain eight pages. The biggest paper of the year was the 20-page Mountaineer Week Team issue of which 15,000 copies were printed. Other than its campus circulation, it was distributed by members of the Week Team to high school students all over the state. Barbara Goe set a new advertising record when she sold ads worth $2,449.19 during the first semester.

Although the paper is produced in the laboratories of the School of Journalism, the policy is determined largely by the three major staff heads. Copy is checked for error but is not censored.

The Athenaeum strives to serve the University community with competent and complete coverage of campus, state and national news.

Daily Athenaeum offices are located in Martin Hall, home of the School of Journalism. Organizations and honoraries open to journalism students are Press Club; Journaliers, journalism men's organization; Theta Sigma Phi, national professional women's honorary; and Kappa Tau Alpha, national scholastic journalism honorary.

Students plan and execute the Mountainlair program under the supervision of the social director. Program Council, made up of eight committee coordinators and four officers, is the planning body. The program is executed by twelve student committees with each committee under the direction of a chairman and a coordinator who acts in an advisory capacity. Students volunteer each spring and fall to help with 'Lair activities making it the largest student organization on campus. Awards for service are made each March at the Presentation dinner.

Joan Cochran, Social Director; Boris Belpuliti, Director; Homer Cox, Food Supervisor.

Governing Board is the policy making group of Mountainlair. It is composed of four faculty members and four student members who are appointed by President Stewart upon the recommendation of the Student Legislature.

The student union is under the supervision of Boris Belpuliti, director, with program supervised by Joan Cochran, social director. "Tuz" Cox is food supervisor. An efficient and friendly staff is always on hand to help.

Mountainlair, opened on May 14, 1948, is a remodeled Navy recreation building that was made available to the University at the end of the war. It is the University's first student union building. After seven years of operation, Mountainlair has assumed a place of importance in University life. This year the State Legislature passed a bill authorizing the Board of Governors to increase the student tuition $3 to pay for a permanent student union building.

Office staff: Phyllis Arthur and Opal Berkshire.

Mountainlair is a social and recreational center where students meet and take part in leisure time activities. Recreation equipment for ping pong, badminton, shuffleboard, billiards, cards and games are available in the check room. Four modern bowling alleys are always in use and a swimming pool, open year round, is found in the left wing of the building.

Records, both classical and popular, can be obtained for playing in the Music Room and magazines and state newspapers are available for reading pleasure in the lounge.

Everyone goes to the 'Lair—either for a coffee break between classes in the popular snack bar or for a meeting in one of the many rooms provided.

Popular and classic records can be checked out to be played in the music room.

The program of planned events is executed by the twelve student committees. Publicity and public relations committees publicize 'Lair events on campus and throughout the state. Round dance sponsors several informal combo dances and brought Buddy Morrow to the campus for the Mid-Winter Prom. Decorations committee members spend their time designing new and different backdrops for 'Lair and other campus dances. Music committee takes care of the record collection and sponsors a Sunday night music hour.

A well-known movie is shown each week by the Films committee and photo and art exhibits are arranged on the 'Lair balcony by the Art committee. Weekly square dances and two All-Campus square dances are projects of the square dance committee.

Mixers, honoring schools and students, queen candidates, and the football team are planned by the mixers committee. Outings takes care of trips to Pittsburgh to see plays and concerts and listening parties for games away from school.

Monthly tournaments are conducted by Tournaments committee which also arranges an annual swim meet and the National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament. The Special Events committee handles all of the special program activities such as the Homecoming Alumni Breakfast and the Mountaineer Weekend Beard Growing Contest.

Members of the Decorations Committee plan and build backdrops for all 'Lair dances and other campus affairs.

Student art is displayed on the balcony several times a year.

The Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps program is designed to produce college trained commissioned officers for the United States Army Reserve and the Regular Army. It is the major source of Regular Army Officers.

Military training has been included in the curriculum of West Virginia University since April 3, 1867. The first ROTC unit, Infantry, was established in 1916. It was followed by a Corps of Engineers unit in 1919, a Signal Corps unit in 1941, and an Air Force unit in 1946. The Air Force became a separate unit in 1950. Enrollment has grown from 22 students in 1867 to 867 in 1955.

The University tested a General Military Science program in 1952 and adopted it in 1953. Under the program this year, 85 students will be commissioned as second lieutenants in the United States Army Reserve and assigned to thirteen branches of the Army.

Colonel Douglas G. Gilbert, Professor of Military Science and Tactics, heads a faculty group of ten officers and nine non-commissioned officers conducting the ROTC instruction.

The Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps program is designed to prepare cadets to serve as officers in the Regular and Reserve Components of the Air Force and to assist West Virginia University in discharging its obligation to offer instruction in Military Training. The AFROTC program provides approximately 85% of the officers for the active Air Force, the majority of which pursue Flight Training. 691 cadets are enrolled in the 1954-55 program.

The objectives of the program are to develop an interest in the Air Force and an understanding of its organization, missions, problems and techniques. It is intended to educate the future citizen to live in the air age and the impact of the air age on civilization. The program is designed to develop by precept, example and student participation the attributes of character, personality, and leadership which are indispensable to every officer in the Air Force. The program provides a means for practical training emphasizing leadership.

Colonel Joe W. Compton, Professor of Air Science, assisted by seven officers and seven non-commissioned officers presents the AFROTC curriculum.

The Military Department sponsors the Cadet Hop and Military Ball each year.

The University's 1954 Homecoming, October 8-9, was one of the most colorful and best attended in history.

Twenty-five thousand spectators crowded High Street to witness 25 floats and 13 bands parade on Friday evening. A thuse featuring the introduction of the Homecoming Queen and her court and the game co-captains, and a special fireworks display added to the evening's festivities. At intermission of Friday night's dance at Mountainlair, the Queen and her court were present and trophies awarded Delta Tau Delta and Kappa Kappa Gamma for the best floats and to Sigma Phi Epsilon and Alpha Delta Pi for best house decorations.

Saturday morning many grads joined in the Alumni Breakfast at the 'Lair. That afternoon the Mountaineer eleven retained its national ranking with a 13-7 victory over George Washington. Halftime activities spotlighted the crowning of the Homecoming Queen, B. J. Cunningham, by Governor William Marland. Her attendants were Frances Hoke and Yvonne Gump. Freshman Princesses were Margaret Hess and Thelma Petracca.

Ten men's quartets competed in the first Barbershop Quartet Contest Saturday evening with "The Misfits" taking top honors.

Mountaineers roaming over the campus with jugs and guns signaled the opening of the 1954 Mountaineer Weekend. The first Mountaineer Weekend was organized seven years ago as a celebration to arouse more school spirit.

The student Mountaineers began their annual celebration Thursday evening with a fashion show, beard growing contest, and song fest at Reynolds Hall. The fashions, modeled by candidates for Mountaineer Queen, contrasted Mountaineer dress with the '55 evening gown. The finalists in the beard growing contest were picked by city barbers. Voting for the queen was held during the show. Margaret Duffield was chosen to reign over the weekend with Margaret Johnson and Gayle Smith as attendants and Margaret Ann Riley and Molly O'Kelly as freshman princesses.

Friday evening a thuse followed a mammoth parade down High Street. Later, at the dance intermission, Phi Kappa Sigma and Alpha Xi Delta were awarded trophies for winning floats and Sigma Phi Epsilon and Pi Beta Phi named house decoration winners.

On Saturday morning free cider and doughnuts were given away at the Mountaineer shack in front of Moore Hall. The West Virginia-North Carolina football game climaxed the weekend.

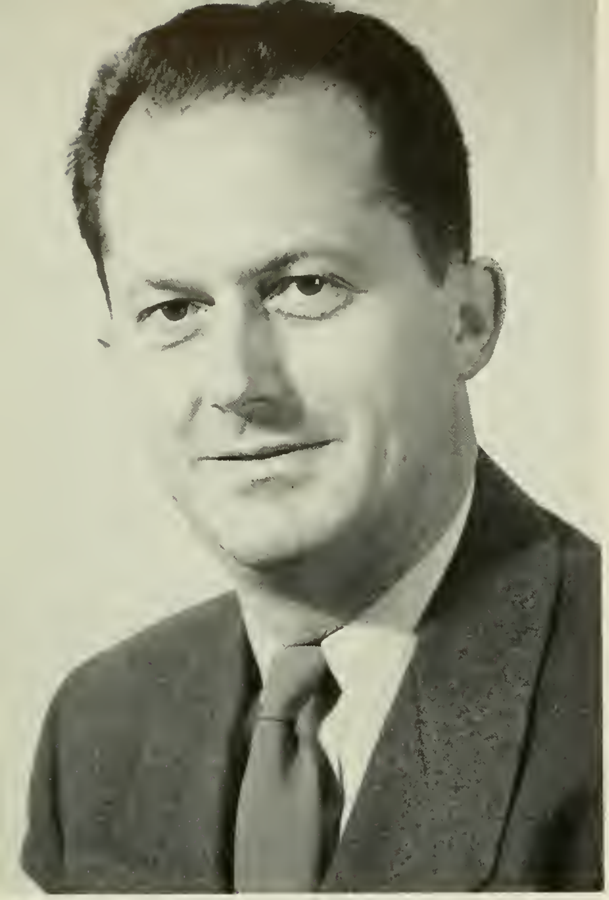
LIFE WEEK



PROF. JOHN DILLENBERGER
Life Week Speaker

The theme of the 1955 Life Week was a challenge to the students. They were dared to ask themselves: "Do I Dare Believe?" "Do I Dare Take Part?" "Do I Dare Open My Eyes?" "Do I Dare Be An Individual?"

Life Week opened with a convocation February 27 with John Dilenberger, professor of theology at Harvard as guest speaker. Dilenberger spoke on the "Do I Dare" topics to students at seminars and in classes, February 28, March 1.

Life Week was begun five years ago as Family Life Week and has become a three-day period set aside by the University for students to discuss problems and topics of interest to themselves with a noted authority.

Greater West Virginia Weekend is the annual open house held by the students and faculty of West Virginia University for parents and friends of the University. Held yearly on the Mother's Day Weekend, it is designed to express to the parents of the Student Body, our humble gratitude for the sacrifices they have made, the patience they have shown, and their constant interest in us.

Cultural, intellectual, scientific and athletic displays, special programs, and the Link Day ceremonies, designed for the visitors' entertainment and enjoyment, highlighted this year's show, climaxed by the annual Mother's Day Sing on Sunday afternoon at the Field House.

IN MEMORIAM

When Col. Joe W. Compton assumed command of the University AFROTC detachment in September, 1953, few persons would have thought this quiet, modest man capable of achieving such lasting results in a period that covered less than two years.

With a quiet efficiency, Compton proceeded to change the stereotyped image of a military leader from that of a shouting, brusque man who obtained few results to one of a pleasant, soft-spoken man who got much done. The transformation that came over the local detachment is one that had to be experienced to be fully understood.

His tragic death on March 27 brought an abrupt end to a life that was filled with accomplishments. At the age of 39, he had reached the rank of colonel in the United States Air Force, a feat achieved by few men. His work at the University might have been interpreted as one more step in an amazing climb to success in the military field.

Today, the words "might have been" are useless. By his words and actions, Col. Compton exemplified the type of man in whom every citizen could place complete trust as one of our country's military leaders.

The Canterbury Association is composed of all Episcopal Students at the University, and is a member of the national Canterbury Association. Its primary purpose is to bring together students who are members of the Episcopal Church and their friends for worship, study and fellowship. Using the facilities of Trinity Church, it seeks to provide a framework in which students can examine Christianity and its meaning for university life, a place where questions can be frankly asked and discussed, and a fellowship in which the Good News of God's love can be felt and understood in personal relationships. In order to accomplish this, Canterbury's program provides Corporate Communions once a month, suppers every Sunday night, and varied programs of common interest at each weekly meeting.

The Reverend Edwin G. Bennett, Rector of Trinity Church, is Chaplain to Episcopal students, and Miss Edith Franklin is the student worker.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

Wesley Foundation is a fellowship of students who wish to grow in their Christian experience while they are in college. Wesley Foundation is a "Church Home Away From Home" for hundreds of students, giving them an opportunity for creative living and to learn effective churchmanship by providing opportunities for inspiring worship and personal counsel, home-like Christian fellowship and wholesome social recreation, meaningful Christian interpretation and guidance toward tested goals of Christ-like faith and action.

The principles of Jesus Christ are the points upon which the total program is established and which guide our efforts to meet the religious, social, academic, physical and personal needs of students. Many opportunities for the expression of leadership ability, personal talents, and skills are provided through the volunteer nature of the Foundation organization.

Development of Church loyalty is a primary goal of our program and our affiliation with the Methodist Church is an essential realization of this end. The Methodist Church, both officially and individually, has contributed generously to the building of a strong Foundation. This is their investment in youth and their investment shall be profitable through those who are vitally influenced by spiritual realities, our reasoned hope for a Christian tomorrow.

We propose to offer to the student the kind of fellowship during his college days which will make for the building of the strongest possible faith in God.
Our total program is directed toward building such a faith.

"Legs" Hawley fought the good fight; he ran the good race; he finished the course. In whatever position he served he brought to the task his great abilities, his tremendous capacity for work, and his unswerving loyalty.

His zeal, his efficiency, his enthusiasm have set high standards for those who will follow him in positions of leadership in the Southern Conference. But those who were closely associated with him will remember most the buoyant spirit, the gracious hospitality of this matchless host.

The Southern Conference has lost a faithful worker and we have lost a dear friend to whom we pay this tribute of respect and affection.

ROBERT N. BROWN
Director of Intercollegiate Athletics

Emphasis in 1955 on West Virginia is not on what has passed, as it customarily is in a yearbook, but on the year to come. An experienced first string plus the addition of a tremendous 1954 freshman squad leads many to believe that WVU may well come up with one of the most powerful football aggregations in the South. The return of most of this year's basketball regulars, along with the probable addition of a couple of top upperclassmen and some equally outstanding 1954-55 freshmen, will undoubtedly insure Coach Fred Schaus a successful 1955-56 cage season.

It is a well-known tenet that an athletic team is "made" by the boys on it. So it is. But a team cannot rise to its fullest greatness without the help of teachers and helpers—the coaches, trainers, doctors, directors, and public relations men.

Thus it is that this first page of the sports section salutes those responsible for rounding out the teams.

Athletic Director Robert N. "Red" Brown had perhaps the hardest job to do in 1954-55, stepping into the void left by the untimely death of Roy "Legs" Hawley. Brown has handled the job to perfection the short time he has had it.

The resulting space left at head basketball coach by Brown's promotion brought in Fred Schaus, former West Virginia star and record-holder fresh off the professional courts. In his first season, Schaus did not, to put it frankly, meet with unbounded success. But prospects for a real "big time" cage club next year look brighter than they have for several years.

The third change in WVU's athletic setup came in the publicity field. Rene Henry, from William and Mary, took the place of Edgar O. Barrett, who had put West Virginia in the public sports eye. In the short time he has held the office, Henry has kept up the precedent set by Barrett, sending from his office a steady stream of news releases, booklets, statistics, and magazine articles.

The praise due Art Lewis for his magnificent five-year rebuilding of the football team has been wondered at the nation over. There seems hardly any point in trying to explain his achievements. His teams speak for themselves. Much of the credit due the team is also due the assistant coaches—Quentin Barnette, Gene Corum, Russ Crane, and Ed Shockey; and to the team physician, Dr. Sam Morris, and A. C. "Whitey" Gwynne, trainer.

Thus is the WVU sports picture made complete. Coaches of the so-called "minor" sports are not mentioned here, but their achievements will be apparent farther on in the book.

RENE A. HENRY
Director of Publicity

In only five years, Coach Art Lewis' Mountaineers have moved into the front ranks of college football elevens. The fall of 1954 saw them roll through their second consecutive season with an 8-1 record.

West Virginia knocked the pre-season predictions for a loop on October 2 as the Lewismen routed high-ranking South Carolina, 26-6, on the Gamecocks' home field. The week before, South Carolina had beaten Army—one of the top teams in the nation.

In a definite let-down from its performance against South Carolina, the Mountaineer combination was hard-pressed to beat a determined George Washington eleven, 13-7, at Mountaineer Field on October 9.

The high point of the season came when the never-say-die Mountaineers came from behind to score two touchdowns in the last quarter and beat Penn State, 19-14. The Nittany Lions thus became the second top team to bow to West Virginia. Penn State had been rated the top team in the East the week before the WVU tilt.

That game, played at State College, Pa., boosted West Virginia into national recognition. Said Sports Illustrated, national sports weekly, in its "Game of the Week" series:

"If West Virginia can remain even two-thirds as keyed up as it was in the Penn State game, Nicholson's touchdown in the last few minutes probably will be remembered as the point at which the Mountaineers started their march to a New Year's Day Bowl."

It was not to be, however. The Mountaineers polished off VMI, 40-6, the next week and were rated in the Top Ten teams in America going into the Pitt game.

A Pitt sophomore named Corny Salvaterra quarterbacked and passed his team to a 13-10 victory at Mountaineer Field on October 30 in what was called one of the most interesting and hard-fought contests seen in Morgantown in many a year. The entire first half became a period of hard, rough, skull-cracking football. Center Chick Donaldson kicked a field goal just before the half ended to give WVU a 3-0 halftime lead.

Pitt scored in the closing minutes of the third period on a Salvaterra pass. WVU retaliated with a 46-yard scoring drive capped by fullback Joe Marconi's touchdown run. But Pitt took over on the kick-off, marching from its own 11-yard stripe to score the last touchdown of the game.

The rest of the season, after the Pitt game, went by successfully. The Mountaineers downed, in succession, Fordham (39-9), William and Mary (20-6), North Carolina State (38-3), and Virginia (14-10).

With the season's end, Quarterback Freddy Wyant was chosen Southern Conference player of the year and Coach Art Lewis was selected as coach of the year. Having gone undefeated in the conference, West Virginia was named SC champ for the second consecutive season.

And with it all, 1955 promised to be an even greater year . . .

Athletic Director Robert N. "Red" Brown confers with head football coach Art Lewis on pre-season strategy in preparing for the big 1955 season ahead. The Mountaineers are expected to have one of its best seasons ever this coming year, with one of the most powerful teams in the East and South expected to have its home in Mountanieer Field.

MOUNTAINEERS OF W.V.U.

The Southern Conference championship . . . Fred Schaus . . . Rod Hundley. These were the new factors (and the spectacular ones) in West Virginia's 1954-55 basketball season.

Being Southern Conference kings was a new experience for the Mountaineer cagers. It had never happened before. Starting out fast, the Mounties won their first five games. The last two of these five were over Richmond and Wake Forest, two of the most powerful teams in the South. Then misfortune struck and West Virginia won only one other game in the holiday tournaments (the Birmingham and Dixie Classics). Just after the holidays the team lost two heartbreakers—both by one point—to New York University and Carnegie Tech.

The rest of the season was up and down, with the final count at 19 games won and 11 lost. Oddly enough, the Mountaineers lost only one Southern Conference game—that to Richmond in the season's second encounter with the Spiders. WVU beat Pitt twice and, in the last game of the season, walloped high-riding George Washington to cop the SC regular season championship.

In the Southern Conference tournament at Richmond, WVU whipped, in one-two-three order, V.M.I., Washington and Lee, and George Washington to become the tourney champs. Thereupon it advanced to the NCAA tournament in New York, only to be beaten by LaSalle, one of the nation's top teams and NCAA champ in 1954.

Thus, unusual good fortune came to Coach Fred Schaus in his first year as a mentor. A former WVU and New York Knickerbocker star, Schaus was named Coach of the Year for the Southern Conference in his first season at West Virginia.

WVU's big individual attraction was "Hot Rod" Hundley, sophomore ace who set a new high for individual season scoring—711 points, which broke All-American Mark Workman's previous record of 705. Hundley was also the highest-scoring college sophomore in the nation; he tied a Dixie Classic single game record with 47 points; and he now ranks 12th in WVU varsity career scoring, after only one season. He was named most valuable player in the Southern Conference Tournament and was named to the all-SC first team.

His "Goose Tatum" type basketball shenanigans earned him the name, given by a Pittsburgh sports writer, of "The Clown Prince of College Basketball." It was this spectacular color which earned Hundley his many illustrated write-ups in national magazines.

Playing their last games for West Virginia in 1955 as seniors were guard Frankie Spadafore and forward Pete White. Spadafore was the play-making ballhawk who broke up many enemy scoring attempts, while White, who won the "Shorty" Hicks Memorial award, was right behind Hundley in almost every department. "Pistol Pete" was high for rebounds in a single game, getting 27 in the first tilt against Pitt.

All in all, it was a prosperous and colorful year for the Mountaineer cagers. And, as in all major sports at West Virginia, future prospects look even better.

Tense moment in a big game at Mountaineer field house brings anxious urging from Rod Hundley and analytical watchfulness from Coach Fred Schaus.

Fourteen-and-one. Quite a record for a freshman basketball team. Yet that's what the WVU plebe cagers posted in 1954-55.

Led by 6-foot, 9-inch center Lloyd Sharrar, the Little Mounties ripped through a 15-game season with an average of 87.5 points per game, as compared with 64.6 points for their opponents.

Five of the freshmen posted season's averages in the double figures. Sharrar was high, with 15.5. The lanky yet fast-moving pivot man is expected to be a possible big cog in the Mountaineer varsity next year.

The Little Mountie's record of wins is as follows: W. Va. Wesleyan Frosh, 103-72; Fairmont State Frosh' 79-45; Bluefield College, 83-59; Kiski Prep, 106-56; W. Va. Tech Frosh, 91-82; Carnegie Tech Frosh, 75-56; Westminster Frosh, 82-58; Pitt Frosh, 87-80; Fairmont State Frosh, 95-53; Potomac State College, 74-70; Bluefield College, 79-61; Greenbrier Military, 92-79; Salem College Frosh, 100-56; and Davis and Elkins Frosh, 97-59.

The only loss incurred by Quentin Barnette's freshman team was an 83-69 defeat by the Pitt plebes in the teams' second meeting.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL AND FOOTBALL

The past year was a good one for West Virginia freshman teams. Both the plebe football and basketball teams absorbed only one loss each.

The frosh gridders finished the season with a 4-1 record. Their only loss was a 33-20 defeat by the Cincinnati University freshmen. Coach Quentin Barnette's eleven rambled to wins over the Fairmont State Freshmen, 51-0; the Ohio University freshmen, 18-0; the Virginia Tech plebes, 20-13; and the Pitt freshmen, 23-2.

Composed of the top high school football talent from West Virginia and southwestern Pennsylvania, the WVU plebes presented one of the most powerful elevens of its kind to be seen anywhere. Especially impressive were two of its backs: halfback Ralph Anastasio, of Follansbee, and Pennsylvanian Mickey Trimarki, who may well fill Freddy Wyant's shoes when the present starting quarterback graduates.

At any rate, the 1954 Mountaineer freshman gridders will provide a large amount of depth to the 1955 West Virginia varsity.

Coach Steve Harrick's rebuilt 1954 baseball team lost the Southern Conference tournament championship by one pitch. That pitch was hit for a triple by a VPI player and drove in the tying run that lost the game and the championship for WVU.

VPI won the tournament and left WVU in second place. Virginia Tech also copped the regular season championship with a 10-4 record, while West Virginia was sixth with a 5-4 mark.

Outstanding for the 1954 Mountaineer baseballers was senior pitcher Lou Schaper, who posted a 5-1 record during the season. Schaper had an earned run average of 1.37 in 40 innings of hurling and walked only four men during the season.

Prospects for 1955, as the season's practice got underway, looked good. Several experienced diamondmen were back and ready to go.

Art Smith's 1954 thinclads compiled 29 points to finish fourth in the annual Southern Conference meet at Blacksburg, Va., in May, running behind first-place VMI.

Virginia Tech finished second with 42½ points, while Davidson was third with 31½. Tom Potter earned West Virginia's lone first place by winning the 440-yard dash in 50.6. Potter also placed second in the 220 to pick up nine points and lead the Mountaineer scoring. Other Mountaineer scorers were: Charles Cascio, second in the 880; Harry Diehl, fifth in the 880 and third in the mile; Sam Brady, fifth in both hurdle events; Frank Spinks, fifth in the broad jump; Jim Starkey, third in the shot put; and Bud LaFollette, fifth in the javelin throw.

The University thinclads failed to pick up a single win in five dual meets during the regular season. The 1955 season held greater prospects, as the number of "big" teams on the schedule was reduced and the team picked up more runners.

Coach Art Smith's cross-country team placed third in the Southern Conference meet at Lexington, Va. in November, running behind VMI and Washington and Lee, with 76 points.

The Mountaineers had a 3-3 record over the regular season. They copped 6th, 8th, 11th, 22nd, and 29th places in the conference meet for the third position.

Virginia Military had 27 points, W&L, 71. Low score, in cross-country, wins.

Placing for West Virginia were Dick Thoburn, 6th; Gus Kaimakides, 8th; Charles Cascio, 11th; Don Smith, 22nd; and Harry Diehl, 29th.

CROSS COUNTRY AND WRESTLING

WVU's varsity wrestling team ended up in second place in the 1955 championship matches at Lexington, Va., early in March, beaten out by Virginia Tech by one point. Three University grapplers won matches as Captain Bob Perry successfully defended his 123-pound crown to become the first wrestler in WVU history to go four consecutive years without losing a conference match.

Bryce Kramer, 157 pounds, retained his crown by beating VMI's Tomassey, while Frank Craze won a new championship for the Mountaineers by defeating Thornton of VMI in the 177-pound class.

West Virginia wrestlers were defending champions in the tournament, having won the crown in 1954.

West Virginia's 1954 golfers, under Coach Ira E. Rodgers, came through to win five matches, lose three, and tie two.

West Virginia posted wins over Waynesburg (2), Geneva, Western Reserve, and William and Mary. It lost to Maryland, VMI, and Pitt, and played to ties with Washington and Lee and Pitt.

Dan Hicks compiled the best record for WVU, winning seven matches, losing two, and tying one. Other golfers who contributed to WVU's success, although not equaling Hicks' mark, were Herman Hall, Harry Mulligan, Bruce Davis, Bob Martin, George Petitte, Ray Prozzillo and Bob Maier.

GOLF AND TENNIS

WVU TENNIS TEAM

Compiling a 6-7 season's record, Coach Red Brown's 1954 netmen defeated Western Reserve, Fairmont State, Salem (2), Richmond, and Geneva. They lost to Michigan State, Maryland, William and Mary, Washington and Lee, Pitt (2), and Carnegie Tech.

John Lynch, who was named captain for the 1955 tennis aggregation, was second over the season in number of matches won, with 9. He lost three. Leading Mountaineer scorer was Reuben Ward, with 10 wins and three losses.

Prospects for the 1955 season look good, with Lynch returning. Ward will not be back, but new players such as Bob Spessard, Allyn Griffiths (who is expected to be first man), and Bill Burnfield will boost the team's potential.

GYMNASTICS TEAM

At this writing, Coach Bill Bonsall's gymnastics team has a 1-3 record, with two matches and an invitational meet yet to go. Its one win came over Pitt, as veteran performer Bill Solley garnered five first places.

Losses were to Penn State, Illinois, and Ohio State. Top performers, in addition to Solley, were Bob Gluck and Ira Lilly. Sophomores Alex Szuch and Bruno Stanislawski were, as the season neared its end, developing and gaining more experience.

Matches yet to go, as of this writing, are a return meet with Pitt and another with West Chester State Teachers' College (Pa.) Bonsall also hopes to take the team to an invitational meet at Temple University.

GYM AND SWIMMING

The WVU swimming team, under Coach Herb Scogg, was blanked during its season, losing five meets and winning none. It was, however, only the second year WVU had put forth an intercollegiate swimming team.

The team's last meet of the season was to Pitt, who won by a 59-23 score. The Panthers last season were one of the top teams in the East. The inexperienced Mountaineers were no match for them. The WVU tankmen also dropped meets to Carnegie Tech, VMI, Washington and Jefferson, Virginia, and Miami of Ohio.

WVU SWIMMING TEAM

As the 1955 season began, the University rifle team was off to a good start, having beaten Washington and Jefferson, Duquesne, and Carnegie Tech, and were the only undefeated team in the Greater Pittsburgh League.

Prospects for the rest of the season, Capt. Clair Book, coach, said, were good. Nine more matches were scheduled, and WVU stood a good chance in all of them. The remaining schedule was: Second Army Headquarters; Duquesne; Carnegie Tech and Potomac State; intercollegiate sectional at College Park, Md.; VPI; Pitt; Second Army Headquarters; Potomac State; and Washington and Jefferson and Pitt.

WOMEN'S PANHELLENIC COUNCIL

The Panhellenic Council is composed of an outstanding junior and senior representative from each social sorority on the campus of West Virginia University. The Council is the cooperating organization established to maintain fraternity life and interfraternity relationships on a high plane. Its aim is to cooperate with University officials in an effort to continue high scholastic and social standards throughout the entire campus and to be a forum for the discussion of questions of interest to the college and to the fraternity groups.

In conjunction with the Council of Fraternity Presidents, the Panhellenic Council participates in the Fraternity-Sorority Community Chest Fund. As an incentive to higher scholastic standing among the sororities, the Council offers annually a trophy to that sorority achieving the highest over-all average.

The social activities of the Council include an annual Panhellenic dance, exchange dinners among the various sororities, and receptions and informal teas at intervals throughout the year.

In recent years a Junior Panhellenic Council has been established composed of representatives of the pledge classes of each sorority. While this Junior Council cooperates with the regular Council in many ways, its chief advantage is to establish friendships among the pledge classes of the various sororities.

COUNCIL OF FRATERNITY PRESIDENTS

"United in the belief that among social fraternities there are common problems beyond the scope of individual action, that where there is no unity there is inevitable dissention, that absolute freedom from control provides no no freedom but chaos, that evils ascribed to the fraternity system are within control of the system itself, that the fullest benefits from the fraternity system can be achieved only by common action on a constructive program," the presidents of the fraternities of West Virginia University formed the Council of Fraternity Presidents in 1945.

Some of the activities of the Council include the sponsorship of the Rush Week activities where the problems of the individual organizations are discussed, and the encouraging of higher scholastic standings. The fraternity with the highest scholastic standing is recognized and rewarded. The Men's Pan is directed by the Council, and it is one of the social highlights on the campus each year. At the conclusion of the basketball season, the Council presents blankets to the seniors on the team, while among the fraternities an athletic program of intramural sports has been established. Contributions to the Community Chest Drive and volunteering for service in other areas aid in the success of efforts along these lines. Mountaineer Day is sponsored by the Council which enlivens our school spirit

JOHN ROBERT POWERS SELECTS OUR BEAUTIES

Miss Carolyn Jo Hathaway, Editor
1955 MONTICOLA
9 Woodburn Hall
Morgantown, West Virginia

Dear Editor Hathaway:

It was a pleasure to select the beauties for the 1955 MONTICOLA. All of the contestants were most attractive and it was difficult to choose between them.

However, we have numbered our choice on the reverse sides of the photographs. The winners were selected on the basis of (a) features and contours of the face, (b) apparent personality and (c) feminine charm. Naturalness, not glamour, is my criterion of a young lady's attractiveness.

Congratulations to the contestants and to you and your fellow staff members. With all best wishes,

Sincerely,

John Robert Powers

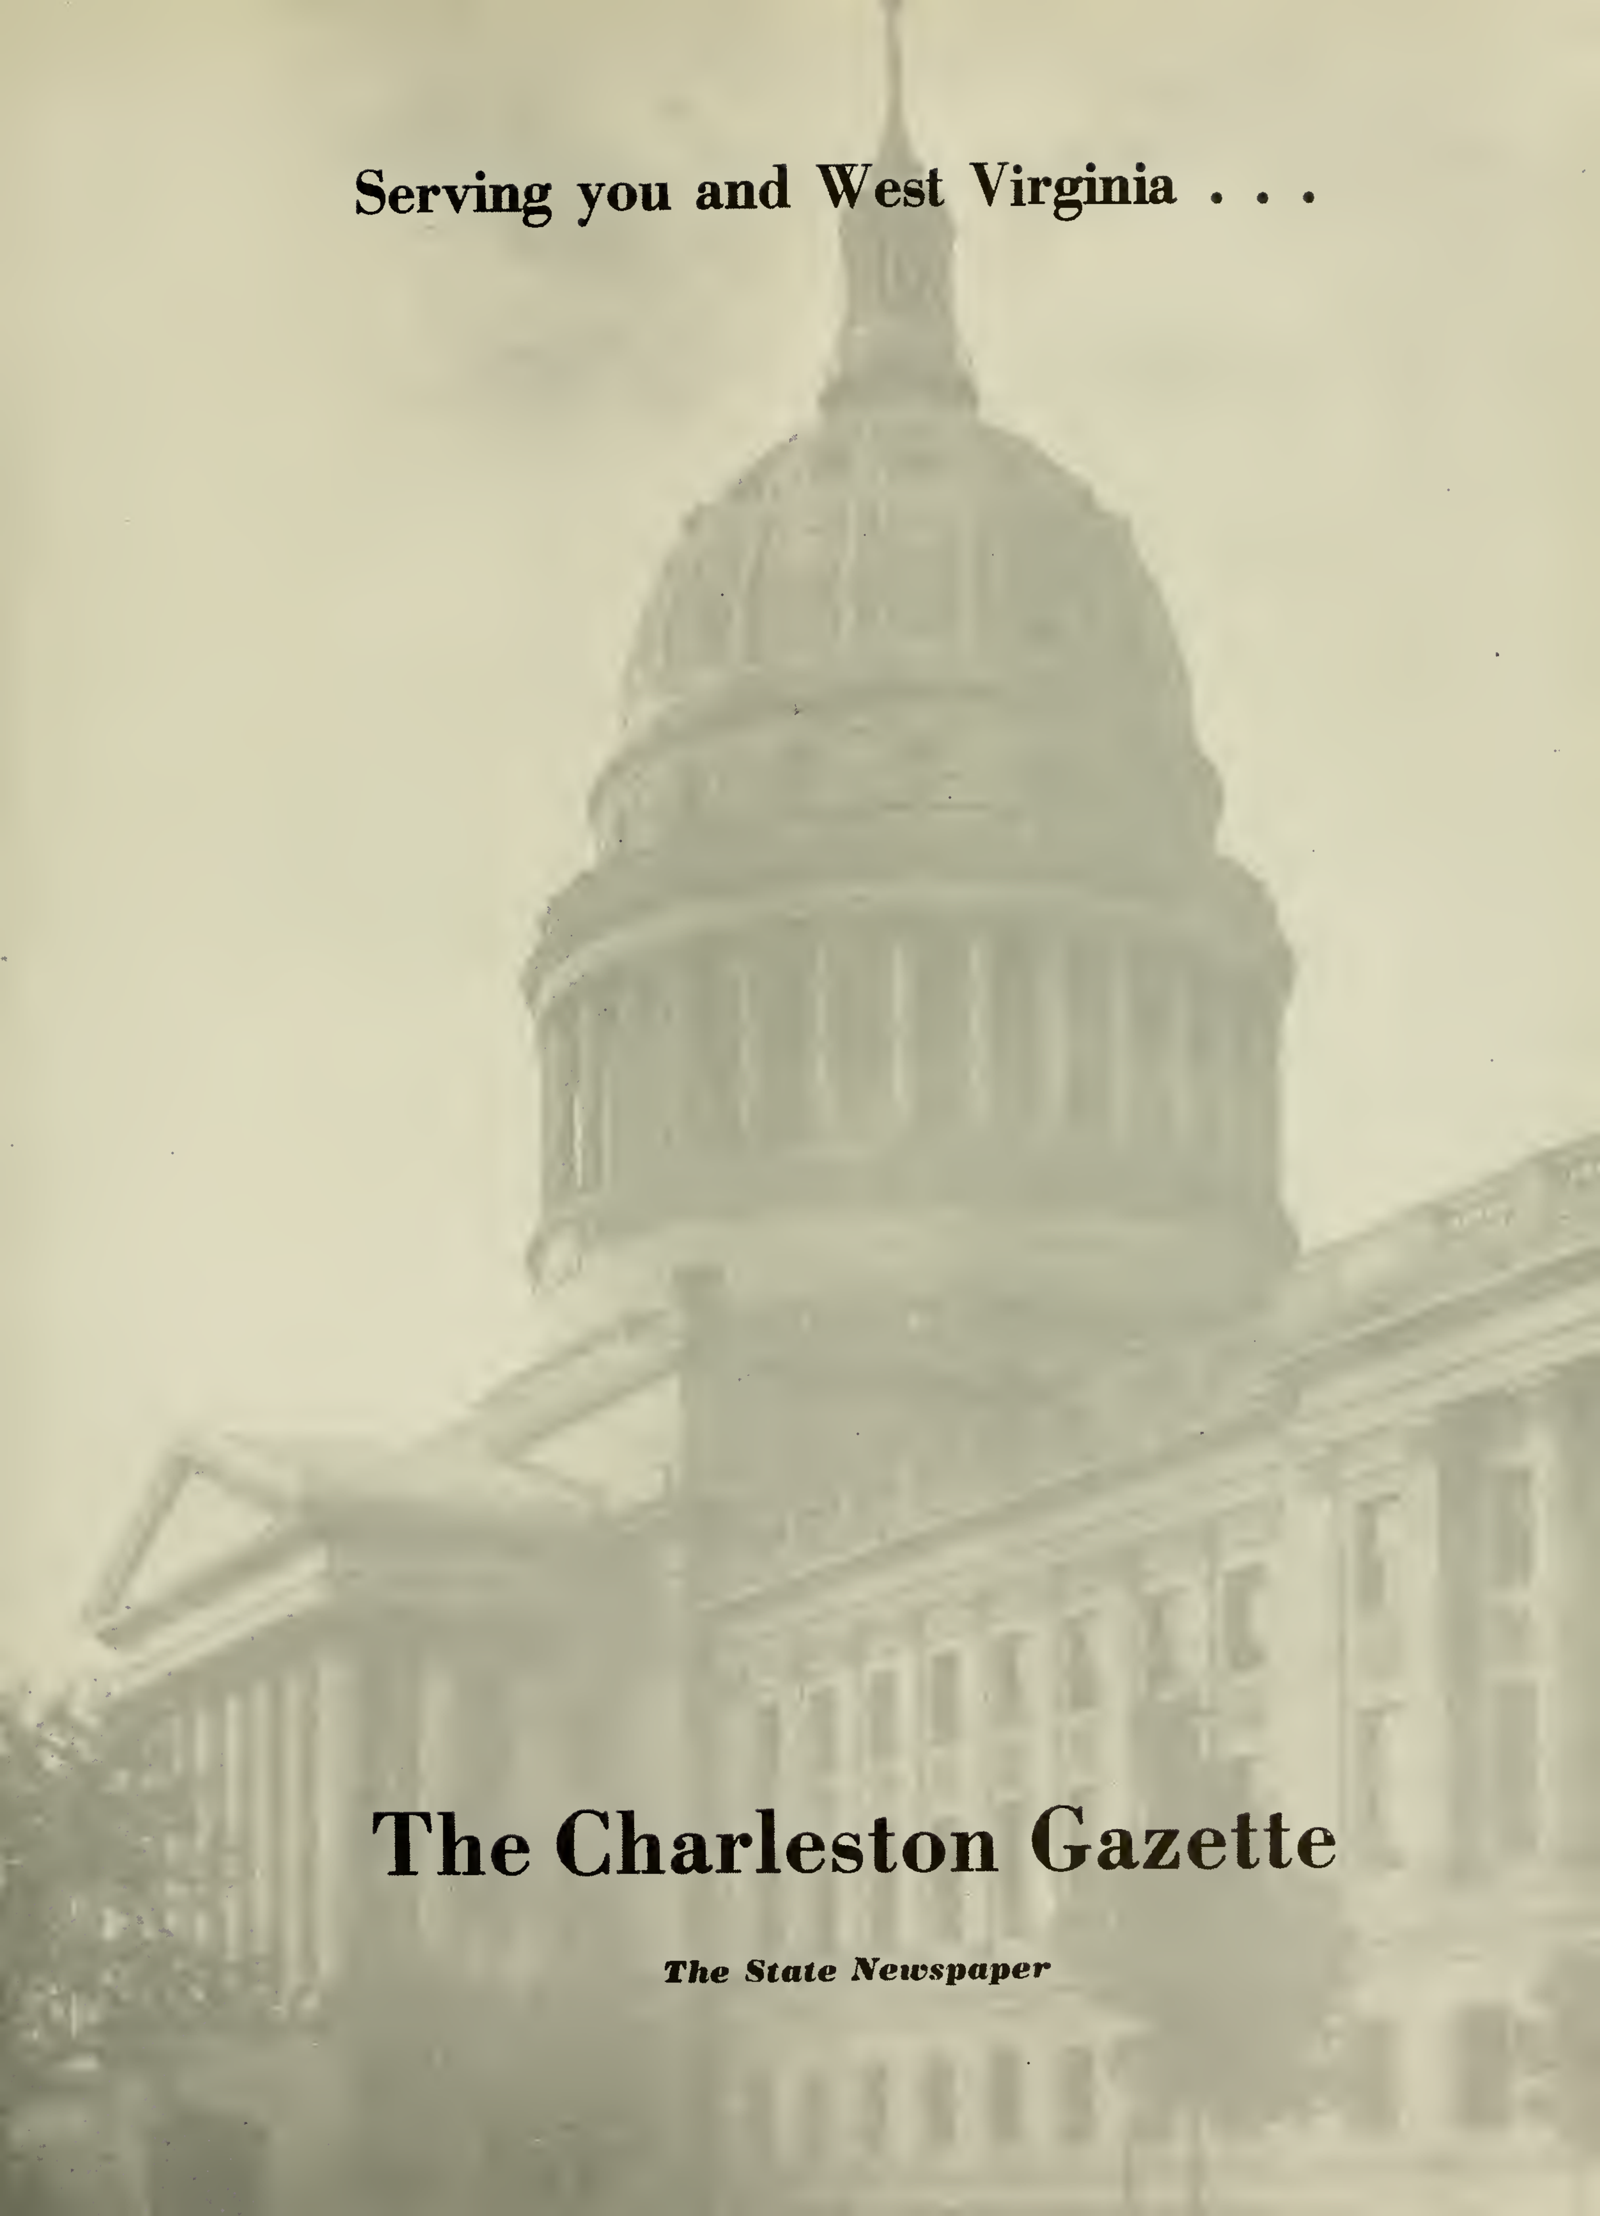
In Appreciation

The staff of the 1955 MONTICOLA welcomes each of the advertisers who appear on the following pages. When a college yearbook must be financed entirely by revenue derived from subscriptions and space sales, their friendship becomes a necessity as well as a pleasure.

The MONTICOLA is proud to be able to bring the message of these business firms to West Virginia University students who will soon be among the best customers anywhere.

May the appearance of these fine business firms represented on our advertising pages become as traditional as the MONTICOLA itself.



Serving you and West Virginia . . .

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation,
under God,
indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all"

The words "UNDER GOD" were added to the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag by joint Congressional Resolution, in June 1954. Said President Eisenhower: "From this day forward, the millions of our school children will daily proclaim in every city and town, every village and rural school house, the dedication of our nation and our people to the Almighty . . ." The Pledge of Allegiance was originally written in 1892 by the Rev. Francis Bellamy of Rome, N.Y. He was then an editor of the magazine "The Youth's Companion."

How much would you contribute for a socialistic U. S. A.?

Not a nickel, you'd say.

But you are helping to pay for one more steppingstone toward a socialistic America every time the federal government builds an electric power plant that business stands ready to build.

There are persuasive groups of people who want to push government farther and farther into the electric business. They are encouraging government to keep on building new power plants—with your tax dollars.

All that spending of tax money by government is not necessary.

For there is a better way to produce electricity's benefits for Americans.

It's simply the way the hundreds of electric light and power companies, with money from millions of investors, have built the greatest electric industry in the world.

That way is still a better way to build.

- It gets the job done quickly and efficiently.
- It doesn't use your tax money.
- It's why Americans today enjoy far more low-price electricity than people anywhere else.

Since America's electric light and power companies are ready, willing and able to provide plenty of power, isn't it wasteful of tax dollars for government to try to do the same job? The government way leads straight downhill to a federal electric power monopoly . . . and socialism.

"HAVE FAITH—GO FORWARD"

We of Appalachian are happy to congratulate members of the graduating class at West Virginia University. On this memorable occasion we urge you to adhere to the words and wisdom of Thomas A. Edison one of the greatest Americans of all times.

Edison, inventor of the first practical incandescent lamp, hastened the dawn of electrical living you now enjoy. In his last public words, he gave a challenge to all of us. He said, "Have Faith — Go Forward."
